ALSO PRESENT:

ANDREW RITCHIE, Videographer

HEATHER L. DIETRICK, Counsel, Gawker Media

1 S. Kidder
2 viewed basis not, say, a click basis,
3 correct.

4 Q. Okay. Does Gawker Media receive
5 any revenue in addition to the revenue it 6 received, it receives from a view when an 7 individual clicks on to a specific ad that 8 appears on that web page?

9 A. Generally not. There's some ways
10 that we generate revenue. For example, the 11 commerce example I gave earlier where if you
12 buy a product through a site we might get a
13 percentage of that. Sometimes we display
14 house ads that we're not -- no one pays us
15 for it on an impression basis, but we make 16 money if we, if we click or if the reader
17 clicks, but generally with direct display
18 advertising sold by our ad sales team to 19 advertisers there's no additional revenue
20 received for, for a click. Excuse me.

21 Q. How do house -- how does someone 22 clicking onto a house ad result in revenue to
23 Gawker Media?

24 A. Well, if the house ad is, say for a
25 product that we'd like you to purchase

1 S. Kidder
2 through Amazon.com, we won't receive revenue 3 merely for clicking on the ad, but we will 4 receive should you ultimately make the 5 purchase at Amazon.com, for example.

6 Q. Gawker Media maintains a lot of 7 information about how its viewers, readers
8 behave. You indicated in your initial answer
9 to this series of questions, though, that you
10 did not maintain records with sufficient
11 granularity to permit you to quantify, I 12 suspect, the ways in which Gawker might have 13 obtained revenue from the appearance of the 14 Hulk Hogan sex tape video; is that accurate?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Is there, is there no resource that 17 could be tapped to identify how many 18 individuals who viewed the Hulk Hogan sex
19 tape video in its original iteration clicked
20 from that page to another page within 21 Gawker Media?

22 A. No.

23 Q. That information does not exist at 24 all?

25 A. We undertook a review of the

1 S. Kidder
2 various analytic systems, both internal and 3 external, that we use as part of the 4 discovery process and we, we produced,
5 produced what was possible but that was not 6 able -- that was not something we were able 7 to ascertain.

8 Q. Okay. Has there never been a
9 need -- well, is it impossible to obtain that 10 information, or is it -- or has the 11 technology simply not been employed in order
12 to ascertain that?

13 A. We again, between our internal and 14 external analytics systems, we don't record
15 the data that would permit us to make that 16 finding.

17 Q. Are you aware of whether that is a
18 common practice within the internet industry,
19 whether, and by that I mean the ability
20 to -- the inability to ascertain whether a
21 particular reader of a web page has clicked
22 onto another web page of the same, on the 23 same site?

24 MR. BERLIN: Let me object to that,
25 given that the witness is here

1 S. Kidder
2 testifying about what Gawker Media
3 knows, not what common practice is other
4 places. But you can answer if you can.

5 A. We use many of the same analytics
6 programs that many other websites do such as 7 Google Analytics, and I'm not aware of any 8 way to track that information.

9 Q. All right. So sitting here today,
10 then, there's no way for you or us to know
11 whether or how many individuals may have 12 clicked from the Hulk Hogan sex tape web 13 page onto another page within the 14 Gawker Media family?

15 A. That's correct.

16 Q. And the same is true with respect
17 to -- and there's no distinction that you are 18 drawing between the inability to know that 19 information vis-a-vis a click from the 20 Hulk Hogan web page to another web
21 page within Gawker.com, correct?

22 A. No, I'm not, I'm not drawing any 23 distinction. Are you asking Gawker.com as 24 opposed to another Gawker Media site?

25 Q. As opposed to, yeah, any of the

1 S. Kidder

2 other sites that we talked about earlier?

3 A. No, that's not a distinction I'm 4 making.

5 Q. All right. But you do understand,
6 and it is true, that from the Gawker.com
7 web page that included the Hulk Hogan sex 8 tape video one could have clicked not only to 9 any of the subsites of the Gawker.com but 10 could also have clicked to any of the other
11 sites that are controlled by Gawker Media,
12 correct?

13 A. Yes. That's the exhibit we 14 reviewed earlier, there's that function
15 there, I think the design was different in 16 20 -- in 2012 but, yes, there's always been 17 other content that one can get to from any 18 specific story.

19 Q. Okay, great.

20 MR. MIRELL: Now might be an 21 appropriate time to break if you'd like.

22 MR. BERLIN: Why don't we go off
23 the record and figure out what our 24 schedule will be.

25 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: The time now is

1 S. Kidder

2 12:40 p.m. Going off the record.

3 (Recess taken 12:40 p.m. until 4 12:46 p.m.)

5 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: The time now is
6 12:46 p.m. We're back on the record.

7 Q. Mr. Kidder, you understand you are 8 still under oath, correct?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. In October of 2012 did the 11 employees of Gawker.com received -- strike
12 that.

13 In October of 2012 were the 14 employees of Gawker.com entitled to receive 15 bonus payments based upon a traffic to the 16 Gawker.com website?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Who was eligible to receive such 19 payments in October 2012?

20 A. Bonus payments or the distribution
21 of the site bonus pool was at the discretion
22 of the site's editor in chief, all editorial
23 employees and free-lancers are eligible.

24 Q. Would that have included Kate
25 Bennert at the time?
