Mr. David Houston
Attorney at Law

Dear Mr. Bollea,

Allow me to introduce myself, my name is Martin Ellison and I am the Director of Media for sex.com, the biggest and best collection of "pinned" adult content online!

As we have all read and seen a sex tape was recorded and posted online without your permission. While this may be an embarrassing ordeal for you to go through right now, it doesn't need to be. That's why we'd be very interested in speaking with you at your earliest convenience in regards to marketing this tape on our web site.

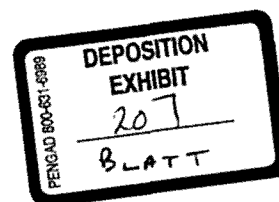

After viewing the clip posted, we don't feel you have anything you need to be embarrassed about, you are "bigger" than Andre the Giant where it matters and we aren't just talking about fan base "brother"!

Check out sex.com, play with our pin boards, and put together your own private collection of fine content. We are truly serious about working with you, this isn't some shameless press opportunity, we have an open checkbook.

Please have your representatives get back to us as soon as possible, we'd be very interested in putting together a compensation package that would make your "Rent A Center" deal look like pocket change. Let's talk, we are true "Hulkamaniacs"!

Best Regards,

Martin Ellison
