HULK HOGAN has been ensnared in a secret FBI sting exposing him on tape spewing foul-mouthed racial slurs!

In a shocking world exclusive, The National ENQUIRER has learned sordid pillow talk caught on an unauthorized sex tape includes a revolting conversation in which Hulk - whose real name is Terry Bollea - unleashes a filthy bigoted attack, littered with the N-word and other disgusting racial insults.

The star of the WWE - fired after The ENQUIRER broke details of this story on its website July 24 - directed his vulgar and prejudiced hatred at his only daughter Brooke, berating her for sleeping with a black man!

Using language so hate-filled and vile it would shock even his most ardent fans, Hulk brazenly blustered to randy sex partner Heather Clem that he was an unashamed racist, multiple sources have confirmed exclusively to The ENQUIRER.

"I guess we're all a little racist," he crowed to Heather, the wife of his former pal Bubba "The Love Sponge" after their athletic 2007 sex romp.

DESPITE HIS calculated TV image as a born-again Christian, the tapes prove the heinous Hulk is a very different man off camera!

In a startling exchange, the 61-year-old 12-time world champion rants at Heather - who he sued for invasion of privacy after the XXX tape was leaked to a website - about his frustrations with blonde bombshell Brooke, 27.

"She is making some real bad decisions now," Hulk said, sources told The ENQUIRER.

"My daughter Brooke jumped sides on me. I spent 2-3 million dollars on her music career. I've done everything like a jackass for her.

"The one option Brooke had, Brooke's career besides me, is [to] sell beach records."

At that point on the tape, the former "Hogan Knows Best" star bemoans how a "black

THE FULL TRANSCRIPT OF HOGAN'S 'N' WORD RANT

In a blockbuster world exclusive, The National ENQUIRER is providing the entire transcript of the tape Hulk Hogan DOES NOT WANT YOU TO HEAR OR READ. We tracked it down interviewing multiple sources with direct knowledge of its existence.

Here, in his own words, is Hulk Hogan's full racist rant:

"I should probably go to try and head home, and beat Nick home. There is so much BS in my life, I want to try and not lose everyone.

"I feel bad for Brooke; she is making some real bad decisions now. Linda is f--ing up my MTV show. My daughter Brooke jumped sides on me. I spent two to three million dollars on her music career. I've done everything like a jackass for her. "The one option Brooke had, Brooke's career besides me, is sell beach records. Some black billionaire guy. I don't know if Brooke was f--ing the black guy's son. Whatever, I mean, I don't know what's going on.

"I mean, I don't have double standards. I mean, I am a racist, to a point, f--ing n-ggers. But then when it comes to nice people and sh-t, and whatever. I mean, I'd rather if she was going to f-- some n-gger, I'd rather have her marry an 8-foot-tall n-gger worth a hundred million dollars. Like a basketball player.

"I guess we're all a little racist.

"F--ing n-gger. He had Jamie Foxx coming in on the 22nd track. I didn't even tell Brooke about it. F-- her. Brooke and [name withheld by The ENQUIRER] met in Miami. Brooke f--s up a 10 million dollar deal I had with the Saudis.

"Brooke says, 'F-- you dad.' She's never said that. She flipped a bird at me. I have this huge f--ing house in Miami. My family never comes home. They went to L.A. F-- 'em."

billionaire guy" had offered to fund her struggling music career.

He also attempts to use bizarre, twisted logic in an effort to justify his bigotry at the man.

"I don't know if Brooke was f---ing the black guy's son," Hulk raved, the sources added.

"I mean, I don't have double standards. I mean, I am a racist, to a point, f---ing n-ggers. But then when it comes to nice people and sh-t, and whatever."

Then, in a tirade to rival the embarrassments suffered by Mel Gibson and "Dog The Bounty Hunter," Hulk unloads even more hatred!

According to sources, he said: "I mean, I'd rather if she was going to f--- some n-gger, I'd rather have her marry an 8-foot-tall n-gger worth a hundred million dollars! Like a basketball player!

"I guess we're all a little racist. F---ing n-gger."

Undeterred, Hulk continues on about the "BS in my life" and the "black billionaire guy" who he said had recruited actor/singer Jamie Foxx to appear on one of Brooke's songs.

"F---ing n-gger ... he had Jamie Foxx coming in on the 22nd track," an unrepentant

Hulk angrily added, the sources revealed.

"I didn't even tell Brooke about it. F--- her. Brooke and [name withheld by The ENQUIRER] met in Miami. Brooke f---s up a ten million dollar deal I had with the Saudis.

"Brooke says, 'F--- you Dad.' She's never said that. She flipped a bird at me."

According to the sources, Hulk then laments: "I have this huge f---ing house in Miami. My family never comes home. They went to L.A. F--- 'em."

NOW, FOR THE first time, The ENQUIRER can further reveal the yet-untold story of the explosive cover-up scandal at the center of the tape - as well as the secrets and lies desperate Hulk allegedly made in a futile bid to protect his image.

In a dramatic turn of events, it's alleged the FBI altered the secret evidence in Hulk's sensational sex tape case - to EXCLUDE his racist diatribe.

Lawyers fighting the wrestling legend's $100 million lawsuit against the website that posted the sex video claim the feds not only withheld over 1,100 documents, audiotapes and videos but also altered the soundtrack they gave you what they had, I want to understand how it is that between that moment when the FBI took possession of those DVDs and when I saw those tapes in Judge Campbell's anteroom on Tuesday, that audio got changed.

public interest beyond your Honor, this thing is -- it smells like bad fish. Right. And I've got a situation where I have been trying for 18 months to get documents, not only to defend my client and also to understand what happened. And now I have a situation where when I finally get them, I'm missing one, I've got a second one where the audio doesn't match, and the audio doesn't match at a key moment. And then I have the audio -- I have a video where the audio doesn't match at a key moment, and then I have an audio for the last minute that anybody besides the government had these where there is different audio that you can hear on the tape. Right?

of one of the steamy videos!

Impeccable sources told The ENQUIRER the sections dubbed over are said to be these rants - in which Hulk also badmouthed his ex-wife Linda, who he said was "f---ing up my MTV show!" The pair divorced in 2009.

Adding fuel to raging inferno, the first man to have listened to the Hulk tapes, TheDirty.com publisher Nik Richie, told The ENQUIRER in an exclusive interview: "He 100 percent said the N-word. He was just saying it like it was part of his vocabulary."

Nik said he does not have a copy of the tape, nor did he provide the transcript to The ENQUIRER.

THE AUDIO alterations became apparent when, faced with the prospect of losing their lawsuit against Hulk, website Gawker sued the FBI to release its hidden cache of evidence.

In a recent hearing, the

HOW WE BROKE THE SCANDAL

■ After acquiring the bombshell transcript of Hulk Hogan's N-word racist rants, The National ENQUIRER contacted Hulk on Thursday, July 23, asking him to explain himself before we published.

■ In a desperate stab at damage control, Hulk alerted the WWE to our scoop. The WWE swiftly scrubbed his name and image from their website, removed his merchandising and booted him from their Hall of Fame.

■ Five minutes after The ENQUIRER published the story online, the WWE fired Hogan: "WWE is committed to embracing ... individuals from all backgrounds as demonstrated by the diversity of our employees."

website's attorney, Seth Berlin, claimed the audio in one of the tapes mysteriously changes "at a key moment."

"I want to understand how that audio got changed," Berlin told a Florida judge. "It smells like a bad fish."

Berlin further suggested that the FBI had conducted an "extortion" probe against a California man who was peddling the raunchy material - at the behest of Hulk!

"The sellers' play was to force Hogan into signing a deal that they all could make money from and sell the tape," Nik explained to The ENQUIRER.

HULK FILED HIS sensational lawsuit after Gawker posted a two-minute clip of the video.

The world-famous grappler claimed he was unaware he was being filmed in bed, and broadcasting his X-rated antics on the Internet invaded his privacy.

Gawker - which declined to comment when contacted by The ENQUIRER [as did lawyers for Hulk] - charged the FBI's actions in the Hulk probe are tantamount to a "cover up."

"The deeper you go, the more interesting it gets," the site's CEO Nick Denton teased in a recent post on his site.

That interest, according to insiders, is the shameful truth hidden for decades about Hulk's racist, hateful ways that now have the potential to jeopardize his lucrative multi-million-dollar career. NE

■ By midday on Friday, Hogan had released his own statement, apologizing for his vile rant, saying in part: "It was unacceptable for me to have used that offensive language; there is no excuse for it."

NIGHT HE CAME CLOSE TO KILLING HIMSELF!

HULK HOGAN'S scandal-scarred life in and out of the wrestling ring once drove him to consider suicide!

In a 2007 memoir, he revealed he was "riddled with personal torment" after wife Linda dumped him. He said he sat alone in his house for two days, downing Xanax with rum, and then sticking a handgun in his mouth. "But before pulling the trigger, the phone suddenly rang," he wrote.

The caller was his then "American Gladiators" co-host Laila Ali, who convinced him not to take his life.

Hulk's life imploded in a $50 million divorce when Linda accused him of cheating with a close friend of daughter Brooke. The woman, Christiane Plant, later apologized, telling The ENQUIRER: "I'm terribly sorry for what occurred."

There was more trouble when his son was involved in a felony car crash in Clearwater, Fla., in 2008 that seriously injured a pal. Nick was sentenced to eight months in prison.

Hulk faced allegations of steroid use in the early '90s, and briefly left the grappling game. But even before the racist scandal, he couldn't avoid controversy. In 2011, The ENQUIRER reported Hulk was embroiled in a gay furor following allegations made by a friend of ex-wife Linda.

Barbara Leslie - the estranged wife of Ed "Brutus 'The Barber' Beefcake" Leslie - said her husband's "bromance" with Hulk always struck her as "extraordinarily suspicious."

"I've watched my husband and Hulk interact for the past 20 years, and there have been many times when I felt they were much too close for comfort," she said.

Hulk, who married second wife Jennifer in 2010, scoffed at the charges.

CELEBRITIES WHO SHOWED THEIR TRUE COLORS!

RACIST No.1

Mel Gibson's rants were caught on tape in 2010! After telling ex Oksana Grigorieva that the way she dressed would get her "raped by a pack of n-ggers," he was blackballed by Hollywood.

RACIST No.2

Likewise, celebrity chef Paula Deen cooked up controversy by admitting in a deposition that "of course" she used the N-word. The Food Network later fired her in a blaze of negative publicity.

RACIST No.3

The ENQUIRER exposed Duane Chapman, star of the A&E show "Dog the Bounty Hunter," for his hatred of his son Tucker's black girlfriend Monique Shinnery. Dog, 62, boasted: "We use the word n-gger sometimes here."
