MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Plaintiff Christopher Gleason, respectfully moves this Honorable Court to reconsider its ruling requiring the Plaintiff to complete a form that is not specified in Florida Statutes Chapter 101.62 or Chapter 119 as a condition for obtaining public records.

In support of this Motion, Plaintiff states as follows:

I. Introduction

The Court's ruling requiring the Plaintiff to complete a form before accessing public records is not supported by the statutory framework governing public records in Florida. Furthermore, the County Attorney's representation to the Court that such a form was required constitutes a material misrepresentation of both facts and law. The records requested in their original, unaltered format as generated, transmitted and stored format would take less than 10 minutes to provide. The false assertion that providing electronic records would take 18,000 hours to produce further supports allegations of official misconduct under Florida Statutes § 838.022. The time-sensitive nature of the requested public records, which directly relate to the administration of the August 20, 2024, election contest between Plaintiff Christopher Gleason and Defendant Julie Marcus, constitutes a significant willful, knowing and intentional delay in the communication of information related to the commission of felonies by public officials within the Pinellas County government and the Supervisor of Elections Office. These misrepresentations and delays violate the Florida Constitution, the Florida Public Records Act, and other relevant statutes.

II. Legal Framework

1. Florida Constitution

Article I, Section 24 of the Florida Constitution provides a right of access to public records, stating that "every person has the right to inspect or copy any public record made or received in connection with the official business of any public body, officer, or employee of the state, or persons acting on their behalf, except with respect to records exempted pursuant to this section or specifically made confidential by this Constitution." The actions of the Defendants, in delaying and obstructing access to these public records, directly contravene this constitutional right.

2. Public Records Act (Chapter 119, Florida Statutes)

Florida Statutes § 119.07(1)(a) mandates that every person who has custody of a public record must allow the record to be inspected and copied by any person desiring to do so, without imposing additional requirements unless specifically authorized by law. There is no provision in this statute or in Chapter 101.62 requiring the completion of any specific form as a prerequisite to obtaining public records related to the actual requesting of vote-by-mail ballots.

Right to Access Public Records Without Unreasonable Barriers

In Wells v. Aramark Food Service Corp., 888 So. 2d 134 (Fla. 4th DCA 2004), the court reversed a dismissal where unreasonable barriers were imposed on accessing public records. The court emphasized that such barriers violate the public's right to access records, which is protected under Chapter 119.

Similarly, in New York Times Co. v. PHH Mental Health Services, Inc., 616 So. 2d 27 (Fla. 1993), the Florida Supreme Court ruled that private entities acting on behalf of public agencies are subject to the Public Records Act and must comply without imposing unnecessary procedural requirements.

- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 2003-26): This opinion reinforces the requirement that public records must be made available without unreasonable delay and that any requirements imposed on access must have a clear statutory basis. The Attorney General emphasized that any delay in providing records, particularly when they are readily accessible, constitutes a violation of the Florida Public Records Act.
- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 99-41): This opinion highlights that public agencies cannot impose additional conditions or require forms that are not explicitly required by law. The opinion underscores the principle that the right to access public records should not be obstructed by administrative hurdles that lack statutory support.

- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 2013-03): This opinion further clarifies that public records custodians cannot impose barriers, such as excessive fees or procedural requirements, unless expressly authorized by law. The opinion also supports the argument that any unnecessary delay in providing public records is contrary to the intent of the Public Records Act.
- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 2002-53): The Florida Attorney General has opined that public agencies cannot impose additional procedural barriers, such as requiring the completion of a specific form, unless explicitly authorized by statute. This principle aligns with the Court's ruling in Schwab, Twitty & Hanser Architectural Group, Inc., 596 So. 2d 1029 (Fla. 1992), where the imposition of unreasonable conditions on access to public records was deemed unlawful.

3. Specificity of Requested Records

The Oath of Acquisition For List of Voters Requesting Vote-By-Mail Ballots pertains only to requesting the list of voters who have requested vote-by-mail ballots. This list is publicly available from the Florida Secretary of State's website at the following URL:

<https://countyballotfiles.floridados.gov/VoteByMailEarlyVotingReports/Reports>).

However, this is not what the Plaintiff requested. The Plaintiff specifically requested electronic records maintained by the Supervisor of Elections Office, including:

- The log and public records of telephone requests for vote-by-mail ballots.
- The log and public records of in-person requests made in writing, particularly those made after 04/17/2024, which should include a DS-DE160 form.
- The log and public records of requests made via the Supervisor of Elections website through the VR Systems Inc software called VoterFocus.

See Exhibit A for the detailed requests made by the Plaintiff.

III. Grounds for Reconsideration

1. Material Misrepresentation of Law and Facts

The County Attorney's assertion that the Plaintiff was required to complete a specific form to access public records was a material misrepresentation. This form was neither required under Florida Statutes Chapter 119 nor under Chapter 101.62. The misrepresentation of such facts and law to the Court is a serious violation of ethical standards and professional conduct.

- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 2002-53): Supports the assertion that additional procedural requirements, such as completing a form, cannot be imposed unless explicitly authorized by law. The imposition of such a requirement by the County Attorney, without statutory basis, constitutes a clear misrepresentation.

- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 2003-26): Supports the assertion that additional procedural requirements cannot be imposed unless explicitly authorized by law. The imposition of such a requirement by the County Attorney, without statutory basis, constitutes a clear misrepresentation.
- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 99-41): Further supports the argument that the imposition of unnecessary procedural requirements is unlawful and a violation of the Florida Public Records Act.

2. False Assertion Regarding Time Estimate to Produce Records

The County Attorney's claim that providing electronic records stored on a computer in the custody of the Supervisor of Elections Office would take 18,000 hours to produce is patently false and unreasonable. The records requested in their original, unaltered format as generated, transmitted and stored format would take less than 10 minutes to provide. This assertion serves as prima facie evidence of a violation of Florida Statutes § 838.022, which addresses "Official Misconduct." Such an exaggerated estimate suggests an intent to obstruct access to public records, conceal information, or mislead the Court and the public.

- Case Law - Gadd v. News-Press Publishing Co., 412 So. 2d 894 (Fla. 2d DCA 1982): This case underscores that intentional misrepresentations to obstruct access to public records constitute unlawful concealment and misconduct. The misrepresentation of the time required to produce records in this case aligns with the misconduct identified in Gadd.

3. Time-Sensitive Nature of the Requested Records

The requested records are not merely administrative in nature but are critically time-sensitive as they pertain to the administration of the August 20, 2024, election contest between Plaintiff Christopher Gleason and Defendant Julie Marcus. The Plaintiff's requests for records were directly related to verifying the legality and integrity of the election process, specifically concerning the potential illegal casting of ballots. The willful and knowing delay in providing these records has effectively obstructed the Plaintiff's ability to timely address potential election fraud and other felonies committed by public officials within the Pinellas County government and the Supervisor of Elections Office.

- Florida Constitution, Article I, Section 24: The delays and obstructions violate the Plaintiff's constitutional right to timely access public records, which is essential for ensuring transparency and accountability in the electoral process.
- Florida Statutes § 838.022: The knowingly, willful, intentional delays made by the Defendants, Julie Marcus, Dustin Chase, Matt Smith and misrepresentation by the County Attorney in this case constitute official misconduct, as these actions have willfully concealed, delayed and obstructed information crucial to the integrity of the election. Their conspiracy to knowingly and intentionally obtain a benefit for themselves, and cause unlawful harm to Plaintiff, as a candidate for office, other candidates for office, all Pinellas County electors and Pinellas County taxpayers by Concealing, covering up, destroying, mutilating, or altering any official record or official document, and Obstructing, delaying, or preventing the communication of information relating to the commission of a felony that directly involves or affects the government entity served by the public servant or public contractor.

- Attorney General Opinion (AGO 2013-03): Reinforces that delays in providing public records, particularly when those records are essential for the timely administration of justice, are contrary to both the letter and spirit of the Public Records Act.

4. Timeliness of Motion

The Plaintiff acknowledges that the defense may argue that this Motion for Reconsideration is untimely or that there has been no new evidence or change in the law to justify reconsideration. However, this Motion is based on correcting a material misrepresentation that was not fully addressed or realized in the initial ruling. The seriousness of the misrepresentation directly impacts the integrity of the judicial proceedings, thereby reinforcing the timeliness and necessity of this Motion.

- Case Law - Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 247-48 (1986):
The importance of maintaining the integrity of judicial proceedings and ensuring that decisions are based on accurate information supports the need for reconsideration in this case.

5. No Misrepresentation Defense

The defense might contend that the County Attorney's actions were based on a reasonable interpretation of the law or that any misstatement was unintentional and did not impact the ruling. However, the intentional nature of the misrepresentation, as evidenced by the clear statutory language and the disregarded Attorney General opinions, indicates that the misrepresentation was deliberate.

- Case Law - Parsons & Whittemore, Inc. v. Metropolitan Dade County, 429 So. 2d 343 (Fla. 3d DCA 1983): The court emphasized the importance of transparency and truthfulness in legal proceedings. This case supports the argument that the misrepresentation was not a mere error but a deliberate attempt to mislead the Court, warranting reconsideration and sanctions.

IV. Conclusion

For the reasons stated, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Honorable Court reconsider its previous ruling and grant immediate access to the requested public records without requiring the completion of any form not specified in the relevant Florida statutes. The time-sensitive nature of these records and the intentional delays imposed by the Defendants have caused significant harm to the Plaintiff and undermined the integrity of the election process. The knowing, willful and intentional misrepresentation by the County Attorney is a serious breach that requires correction to maintain the integrity of these proceedings.

Pinellas County Custodian of Records,

I find it deeply troubling that the Pinellas County Supervisor of Elections and its public official and election officials willfully and knowingly have been intentionally concealing and delaying public records in an effort to convey a benefit for Julie Macus and her co-conspirators.

This ongoing pattern of corruption and official misconduct, has robbed the electors, candidates for office, the taxpayers and the citizens of Pinellas County of their voice in government, their voters intent, for far too long.

As per Florida Statute 101.572

Candidates, PC's and Parties shall have reasonable access to Election Materials &amp; Public Inspection of Election Materials at no cost.

Just to clarify, this is yet another glaring example of the willful, wanton, reckless and knowing violations of Florida Statute 838.022(c) Obstructing, delaying, or preventing the communication of information relating to the commission of a felony that directly involves or affects the government entity served by the public servant or public contractor.

Official Misconduct occurring within the Pinellas County Supervisor of Elections Office.

This is not transparency.

This is not legal.

This is not acceptable.

119.07 Inspection and copying of records; photographing public records; fees; exemptions.—

(1)(a) Every person who has custody of a public record shall permit the record to be inspected and copied by any person desiring to do so, at any reasonable time, under reasonable conditions, and under supervision by the custodian of the public records.

(b) A custodian of public records or a person having custody of public records may designate another officer or employee of the agency to permit the inspection and copying of public records, but must disclose the identity of the designee to the person requesting to inspect or copy public records.

(c) A custodian of public records and his or her designee must acknowledge requests to inspect or copy records promptly and respond to such requests in good faith. A good faith response includes making reasonable efforts to determine from other officers or employees within the agency whether such a record exists and, if so, the location at which the record can be accessed.

(d) A person who has custody of a public record who asserts that an exemption applies to a part of such record shall redact that portion of the record to which an exemption has been asserted and validly applies, and such person shall produce the remainder of such record for inspection and copying.

(e) If the person who has custody of a public record contends that all or part of the record is exempt from inspection and copying, he or she shall state the basis of the exemption that he or she contends is applicable to the record, including the statutory citation to an exemption created or afforded by statute.

(f) If requested by the person seeking to inspect or copy the record, the custodian of public records shall state in writing and with particularity the reasons for the conclusion that the record is exempt or confidential.

Once again, kindly provide the requested documents as they are generated, transmitted and stored.

We kindly request access to the following ES&S (Election Systems & Software) election reports and audit logs for the specified election years: November 2020 & November 2022

- EL68
- EL68A
- Machine Configuration Reports
- Tabulators - System Audit Logs
- Electionware EMS System Audit Logs
- Election Reporting Manager Audit Logs

ES&S RESPONSE

The EMS network environment is hardened with specific roles for different users to protect from potential intentional and unintentional alterations. Each product in the system maintains its own log and has its own security. These are detailed below.

DS200

The removable media where the audit log is stored is in a sealed, locked compartment. In addition, the audit log files are signed to detect any unauthorized alteration.

DS850

The audit logs for the DS850 are stored on the hard disk drive and are available only through the application. When exported, the file is still maintained on the machine and is the exported log is digitally signed and verified on export into the EMS.

AutoMARK

The records in the AutoMARK log files are encoded and not in textual form. A program must interpret the codes to convert it to user meaningful format.

ExpressVote

The removable media where the audit log is stored is in a sealed, locked compartment. In addition, the audit log files are signed to detect any unauthorized alteration.

Electionware

The EMS runs on a closed network and should be housed in a secure environment with the recommended user roles and access controls in place. In addition to physical security, Electionware is a secure system which allows the user access to the data only through the application to ensure data integrity and security.

The tables in the Electionware database are not directly accessible by the Electionware user accounts. All access to the audit tables are done through stored procedures which execute as the database administrator. The only stored procedures to access the audit tables are an insert procedure to add to the audit tables and a select procedure to read from the table. It is also recommended that the password for the system administrator and the database administrator are split between two individuals to ensure additional protection against intentional alteration.

Election Reporting Manager

The records in the ERM audit log file are encoded in a proprietary format. All ERM log entries are also written to the unalterable Windows event log and only accessible by the system administrator. They are in a relative file which has a propriety format. Any manual modification will render the file unusable.

ES&S RESPONSE

Each product in the system maintains its own log and has its own method of access. These are detailed below.

DS200

The signed audit logs are written to the log directory on the removable media. The audit log events can be accessed on the DS200 onscreen or through a printed report. When the media is read back into the EMS the audit logs are also retrievable from the EMS through a machine audit log report or exported in a comma separated format.

DS850

The audit logs for the DS850 are stored on the hard disk drive and are available only through the application. When the media is read back into the EMS the audit logs are also retrievable from the EMS through a machine audit log report or exported in a comma separated format.

AutoMARK

The AutoMARK has three log files located in the root directory of the CF card containing the election definition. These are the OP.ELF, SCN.ELF and SERVICE.ELF. The logs are accessed through the service menu and can either be displayed or printed on ballot card stock. The logs are encoded and must use the AutoMARK firmware to translate them into displayable or printable form.

ExpressVote

The ExpressVote generates two audit logs during normal operation, Operations Log and System Log. The Operations Log resides on the USB media device. The systems log resides internally but can be easily exported and saved onto the USB media device. Both the Operations and Systems log can be viewed on the display screen. To navigate to the logs, switch the ExpressVote to Official mode. Press the button at the top right titled "Operations / System Log". Each log can be displayed newest entry first or oldest entry first. Press Page Up and Page Down to view all pages. Press Export to save the log to the USB media device. Exporting the Operations Log will overwrite the log already on the USB device.

Both logs can also be printed on 19 inch card stock directly from the ExpressVote. Both logs can be imported from the USB device into Electionware where they can be digitally verified as unaltered and decrypted for viewing, printing, or saved as text format.

Election Reporting Manager

Each election has an election specific log file, <electionname>.ALN, which is located in the \ELEC\DATA folder that is in the root directory of the drive being used as the server drive for the election files. This file is an encoded file and cannot be opened with an editor. An ERM menu selection is used to display or print the file content. The log report can be saved as a report image which can then be opened or printed by a text editor.

Electionware

ElectionWare has four different log handlers that log the audit events under different circumstances. The main audit repository for an election is the election audit log in the Electionware database. Until a connection is established to the Electionware database (mainly user login attempt events), the audit events are logged to the Windows Event Log. Once a connection is established to the database, there are two audit repositories, one in the admin database and one in the election database. Whenever an election is open, the events are logged into the election database. When an election is not open, the audit events are logged into the admin audit repository.

The audit repository is an audit schema in the Electionware admin database and each election's database. There is also an output window, where the audit events during that session of Electionware are logged to. This can be exported to a text file.

Otherwise the audit log is only accessible to the Electionware administrator user who can run the audit log report with a filter for a date and time window and event type. The audit tables are otherwise only accessible to the database administrator.

We are requesting these public records in their original unaltered unredacted electronic file format, this might be .LST, .txt or .CSV as generated via the ES&S ELECTION REPORTING MANAGER currently in use.

We are also requesting .pdf copies of the user/operator/administrator manuals for the ES&S Components currently being used to administer elections in your county. To include the following components:

- Tabulators any in use
- Electionware
- Election Reporting Manager (ERM)
- ES&S Event Log Service

These manuals/guides are currently either in your possession or available to you from ES&S in .PDF format. Kindly provide to use in that format.

We understand that some of this information may already be publicly available, but we are seeking the official and comprehensive records directly from the county's election authorities to ensure accuracy and completeness.

Mr. Gleason – nowhere in Section 101.572 does it say “at no cost” or anything arguably close. Please refrain from editorializing Florida Statutes. Your public records request is acknowledged and you will receive a cost estimate in a timely manner.

Matt,

In your professional legal opinion, as the legal counsel for the Pinellas County Supervisor of Elections Office does providing public records after the canvassing and certification by the canvassing board, that were requested many weeks ago, fall under reasonable?

As we all know Florida Statute 838.022(c) is CRYSTAL CLEAR...

Fla. Stat. § 838.022 (“(c) Obstructing, delaying, or preventing the communication of information relating to the commission of a felony that directly involves or affects the government entity served by the public servant or public contractor.”)

Your continuous wilful, malicious, and knowingly obstructing my public records requests made under Chapter 119, Chapter 98, Chapter 101, Chapter 102, to include 101.62 FS have benefited Julie Marcus, and her numerous co-conspirators, to include yourself, Dustin Chase and the other as of yet unnamed individuals, this unlawful activity on the part you, as a member of the Florida BAR is unconscionable, your unlawful activities have harmed every single candidate for office in Pinellas County and has actually disenfranchised every single Pinellas County Voter.

Mr. Smith,

This is the last time I will tolerate your harassment. I do not now, nor have I ever, represented Mr. Gleason. I have known Mr. Gleason since before I was an attorney. I have had "those conversations" with Mr. Gleason, but as he is a friend I put up with his indiscretions. You are not my friend, so please stop harassing me by emailing or cc'ing me on your correspondence with Mr. Gleason.

You are mistaken if you think I assisted Mr. Gleason with his current case against you and the Pinellas SOE, I did not. The Lanz v. Valdez case was from 2022, and had nothing to do with Mr. Gleason.

Mr. Gleason says I am the reason that he does what he does in local Florida elections because I take the time to listen to him, like any friend should. Most people discount what he has to say, but from an election integrity standpoint his perspective is invaluable, which is why there are several Attorneys General and Secretaries of State around the country investigating ActBlue based on Mr. Gleason's investigations, information, and analysis into systemic, institutionalized corruption.

When all you can do is fight him without listening to what he has to say, what am I to think? (Rhetorical)

Do not CC or BCC me again on any email sent to or from Mr. Gleason.

Do I make myself clear? (Rhetorical)

(My attorney is BCC'd on this email.)

Good day.

Mr. Gleason:

In the email sent on June 29, 2024, you assert that "there should be no cost for a candidate or member of the public to come into the office and physically inspect these manuals as they are 'Official Public Records.'" As you are aware, the court ruled against you on this point in "CHRISTOPHER GLEASON Vs. PINELLAS COUNTY SUPERVISOR OF ELECTIONS OFFICE, et al.," Case No. 23-006698-CI, Sixth Judicial Circuit, Pinellas County, Florida ("Doc. 20," attached).

Chapter 119, Florida Statutes, commonly referred to as Florida's Public Records Act, requires a records custodian to determine if the requested records exist, locate them, and review each one to determine if any are exempt from production. The agency may charge the special service charge authorized under s. 119.071(4)(d), F.S., for the cost of reviewing voluminous requested records for exempt material. (City of St. Petersburg v. Dorchester Holdings, LLC, 331 So. 3d 799, Fla. 2d DCA 2021).

The Public Records Act does not distinguish between a 'candidate,' a 'member of the public,' or someone requesting to review, inspect, and copy records, whether in person, via email, or any other method. The agency is obligated to protect statutorily designated confidential information, such as information related to cybersecurity, and is entitled to recover the actual labor costs incurred to do so (see page 184, 2024 Sunshine Manual "Part II, Public Records, Section G., Fees for Inspecting and Copying Public Records").

The Pinellas County Supervisor of Elections, in conjunction with the Pinellas County Attorney's Office, has a longstanding public records policy, including a policy to collect the special service charge for extensive public records requests. Our public records policy should be recognizable as it was part of the lawsuit referenced above in which the Judge affirmed the special service charge for another voluminous public records request (see "Exhibit A," attached).

Based on your written clarification as to the records you are currently seeking, these are the responsive documents we have located, along with the special service charge estimate for each record:

"ES&S Operators Manual for the Event Logs Services"

- Event Log Service User Guide -EVS (22 pages) $171.64
- ES&S asserts that this document contains proprietary product information and/or proprietary procedures that are confidential or sensitive to ES&S, pursuant to §§815.045 and 812.081, Florida Statutes. Therefore, once we have received payment, the record will be sent to ES&S for review.
- Once ES&S has completed their review, the document will be reviewed by our office for confidential information pursuant to §119.0725, Florida Statutes.

"ES&S Operators Manual for the Election Management System"

- Election ware® Vol. I: Administrator Guide (116 pages) $904.99
- Electionware® Vol. II: Define User Guide (184 pages) $1,435.51
- Electionware® Vol. III: Design User Guide (302 pages) $2,356.10
- Electionware® Vol. IV: Deliver User Guide (80 pages) $624.13
- Electionware® Vol. V: Results User Guide (146 pages) $1,139.04
- Electionware® Vol. VI: Appendices (315 pages) $2,457.53

- ES&S asserts that these documents contain proprietary product information and/or proprietary procedures that are confidential or sensitive to ES&S, pursuant to §§815.045 and 812.081, Florida Statutes. Therefore, once we have received payment, the record(s) will be sent to ES&S for review.
- Once ES&S has completed their review, the documents will be reviewed by our office for confidential information pursuant to §119.0725, Florida Statutes.

“Event or audit logs from all election equipment for the 2024 Presidential Preference Primary”

- There are at least 7,875 pages responsive to your request. Pursuant to §119.0725, Florida Statutes, we are required to review and redact each page for confidential and/or exempt information. We estimate it will take approximately 131.25 hours to gather and redact the records we have that are responsive to your request, at a cost of $7,562.63.

Please note, these are only estimates. The special service charge is based on the actual labor costs incurred by the Supervisor of Elections Office. Should further time and resources be required to fulfill this request, additional payment will be requested. Reimbursement will be provided should the task take less time and/or resources to complete than estimated. If you would like us to process your public records request, you must remit payment in cash or check to the Pinellas County Supervisor of Elections Office, 13001 Starkey Rd., Largo, FL 33773. If, after 30 days of this response you fail to remit payment, we will consider these public records requests closed.
